Contributor biographical notes

Michael Rhode is coauthor of the Comics Research Bibliography (which is now continuing electronically on the Internet Archive and Facebook), assistant editor of the International Journal of Comic Art, and has been a contributing writer for Hogan's Alley and has written for the Comics Journal in the past. The RFK Journalism Awards has asked him to be a judge for the editorial cartoon division in 2009-2022. He has acted as a Herblock Award judge. He's edited Harvey Pekar: Conversations, a book of interviews for the University Press of Mississippi. In 2012, he edited and published Biographical Sketches of Cartoonists & Illustrators in the Swann Collection of the Library of Congress by LOC's curator Sara Duke. In 2014, he co-edited The Art of Richard Thompson and The Incomplete Art of "Why Things Are" by Richard Thompson in 2017, followed by Compleating Cul De Sac 2nd ed in 2022. In 2008 for the ComicsDC blog (begun in 2006 and still running), he was chosen Best (Comics) Art Blogger by the Washington City Paper. From 2010-16, he wrote on comics for The Washington City Paper. You can see most of his writings at his Academia.edu page. The Library of Congress and Michigan State University's Library's Comic Art Collection both have "Michael Rhode collections" of cartooning items he's donated and he also sends material to Ohio State University's Billy Ireland Cartoon Library & Museum. As of 2015, he's been an associate member of the National Cartoonists Society. He's a founding member of the Comics Studies Society. He's written short pieces, illustrated by Kevin Rechin, for Matt Dembicki's non-fiction comics anthologies District Comics and Redistricted. Professionally, Rhode is a history of medicine archivist and has published in that field as well.

John A. Lent, Ph. D., a pioneer in the study of international communications, Third World mass media, and comic art, has authored or edited over 90 books and monographs and hundreds of articles. He was founding managing editor of WittyWorld, and is founding chair of the Asian Popular Culture Group of the Popular Culture Association, and the Comic Art Working Group of IAMCR, founder, publisher, and editor of the International Journal of Comic Art, former chair of the Asian Cinema Studies Society and former publisher and editor of the journal, Asian Cinema (1994-2012), and founder of the Malaysia / Singapore / Brunei Studies Group (chair, 1976-1983), and Berita (editor, 1975-2001). He was a University professor from 1960 to 2011 in Canada, China, Malaysia, the Philippines, and the United States.

Tony R. Rose was a contributor to the Eisner-nominated Comics through Time (2014) and to the Encyclopedia of American Indian Removal (2011). He was a founding member of the Board of Directors of the Grand Comics Database. He was co-author of "We Were Always Fighting for Something": A History of the Arkansas Education Association (2010). He has published and presented on topics in mathematics, the Cold War, Arkansas history, Native American Removal, and comics. He is currently the Senior Research Fellow at the Sequoyah National Research Center, the world's largest collection of Native American thought and expression.
